Hello Everyone. This month those living in Brisbane and surrounds, Gold Coast, Sunshine Coast and northern New South Wales had an unwelcome surprise in the form of TC Alfred. I'm aware some people had only minor problems while others suffered devastating losses. And the rain continues to wreak havoc in the West. Not a happy month for many.

If you have any information to share in our e-Bulletin, the project you're working on, or anything interesting to oral historians, please email me at mulligan53@iinet.net.au and use OHQ E-Bulletin in the subject line. Thank you to those who have passed on information to share. If you have an event coming up, let me know as soon as you can to ensure it gets in the e-Bulletin in time. The editor reserves the right not to publish if any information that is judged to be inappropriate. Please visit our website: www.ohq.org.au and "Like" or "Follow" our Facebook page. We try to put some interesting information related to oral history on our Facebook page. Feel free to add a comment. All feedback is very welcome.

2. Community Heritage Grants

The Community Heritage Grants (CHG) program supports community organisations to care for Australian moveable, cultural heritage collections. Since 1994, this program has provided more than $9.3 million dollars in funding to over 1,700 projects across Australia. Applications are now open for the 2025 Community Heritage Grants. Applications close for first time applicants on Thursday 8 May. Previous recipients have an extended deadline of Tuesday 3 June. Find out more here.

3. An Oral History of Activism with Aunty Millie Ingram

In honour of International Women's Day, Wiradjuri Elder Aunty Millie Ingram gives an oral history of her life. Born in Cowra in 1940 and raised on the Erambie Mission in Central New South Wales, she spent her formative years living in a nation that told her — over and over — that her voice didn't matter. Listen to her here.

4. Harmony and Disharmony

Words and Silences Volume 11, Number 1, 2023-2024. This issue provides readers with a glimpse into the oral history projects and ideas that were shared during the XXI IOHA Conference, "Harmony and Disharmony." Read this Journal here.

5. Responses to COVID-19 in Australia oral history project

The COVID-19 virus was first identified in December 2019 with the first Australian case recorded 20 January 2020. The pandemic's effects in Australia and across the globe continue to be profound. We're recording up to 250 interviews with a diverse range of Australians to ensure that stories of the COVID-19 pandemic are captured for present and future generations. Find out more here.

6. Stories of service: Australians in the Second World War

Are you interested in learning more about Australia's servicemen and women in the Second World War? Whether you're tracing your family's military history or exploring the broader stories of service, you'll be guided through the extensive records available in the national archival collection, including those made accessible through the WWII Digitisation Project. Date and time - Tuesday 8 April, Friday 11 April 10 to 11 am. The seminars are identical so you only need to register for one of the sessions.

Location - National Archives of Australia, Queensland Office, 16 Corporate Drive, Cannon Hill QLD 4170

Cost – Free

Find out more here.

7. Riverhood — oral histories in the Murray Darling Basin

The Murray Darling Basin is the most important river system in Australia, and the most contested. What does it mean to live by those rivers, through the droughts, the floods, and the water politics that shape these communities? A beautiful and evocative history of the Murray Darling Basin, as told by people who live there. Listen to the story here.

8. 22nd National Oral History Conference, South Africa

Venue: To Be Confirmed

Date: 6 October (Training) & 7 to 10 October 2025 (Conference)

THEME: Oral history, (un)told stories and (living) archives: pursuance of relentless struggles for human dignity

ABSTRACTS DUE: 5 May 2025

"In South Africa where oral history has now come of age, theorising about issues of orality is no longer confined to the academy and scholarly publications, but community-based oral history practitioners have also embraced this methodology, which has empowered some to produce popular publications. Most importantly, oral history now forms an important component of the school history curriculum. One of the major challenges that still needs to be confronted, however, is how to channel the oral history materials collected through interviews into the archives where they can be made publicly accessible and thus help decolonise the historiography.” Find out more here.

9. New Book Chronicles COVID-19 Oral Histories in Vermont

“Edited by journalist and historian Garrett Graff, ‘Life Became Very Blurry’ recounts the pandemic experiences of more than 110 Vermonters in their own words. In spring 2020, as a deadly new virus raged worldwide, upending lives in countless ways, some Vermonters turned to local historians for insights on how the state weathered its last major pandemic: the global influenza outbreak of 1918 that killed more than 50 million worldwide.” Find out more here.

10. History Queensland Newsletter

Oral History Queensland is a member of History Queensland. Their March 2025 Newsletter is here.

11. “Front Up” and “Tales from a Suitcase””

Recently while searching for something else, I discovered “Front Up” on SBS OnDemand <https://www.sbs.com.au/ondemand/tv-series/front-up> This relatively old series began in 1994 with the wonderful Andrew Urban who sets out on a quest to unveil the hidden stories of everyday Australians. His unwavering belief that there are no ordinary people, propels him to engage with individuals from all walks of life.

Also “Tales from a Suitcase” <https://www.sbs.com.au/ondemand/tv-series/tales-from-a-suitcase> This series depicts the stories of people who moved to Australia from various countries and the impact of the government’s post-war immigration policy on their lives. The series began in 1996 with interviewer Joanna Penglase.

I’m so pleased to discover SBS is showing these series again. I’m looking forward to watching them for the second time.

12. Museum & Galleries Queensland Grants List

Museums & Galleries Queensland has compiled a list of grant opportunities available for museums, galleries and other cultural organisations in Queensland. Find out more here.

13. Queensland-Smithsonian Fellowship Program

“How to apply for a Queensland-Smithsonian Fellowship in 2025, targeted project areas, what supporting documentation is needed, and how the department assesses applications.” Find out more here.

14. Black Summer Bushfires Project

“After the Black Summer bushfires, people from Cobargo, Quaama, Nerrigundah, and surrounding regions spoke with oral historians working for the National Library of Australia

(NLA) to record their memories and experiences of the Badja Forest Road bushfire." Find out more here.

15. Victorian Oral History Award to Alexandra Pierce

"The 15-episode podcast, Women, Conscription, War, tells the story of the Melbourne women who opposed the Vietnam War and the National Service Act from 1965-1972." Listen here. See the other winners of the Victorian Community History Awards here.

16. Salvaging Water-damaged Documents and Photos

Here is a link to a YouTube video on salvaging water damaged documents. It was created by the Queensland State Archives. Watch video here.

17. The Charitable Purpose

March 2025 e-newsletter. Commissioner's Column:

"In anticipation of a federal election, we have updated our advocacy guidance, and we will be promoting that to charities to ensure they understand the rules. Charities can advocate and run campaigns during elections, including evaluating and ranking policies, if it serves their charitable purpose. Charities should be careful not to support or oppose a particular political party or candidate as this will run the risk of being found to have a disqualifying purpose." Read more here:

20. Siobhan McHugh Celebrates 40 Years in Australia

"This post is dedicated to my 40th anniversary in Oz. I was honoured to be the speaker at the annual Saint Patrick's Day Dinner of the Aisling Society, a group formed 70 years ago in Sydney to nurture cultural and historical aspects of the Irish-Australian tradition. It was a perfect opportunity to reflect on the major societal changes I've witnessed in that time, in both countries.” Read more here.

21. National Library Fellowships

Applications for 2025 National Library of Australia Fellowships and Creative Arts Fellowships are now open. Researchers and creators are encouraged to apply for 9 philanthropically funded fellowships offered by the National Library of Australia. Find out more here.
